Kurtosys - ABC Example

Estimated Return on Investment:
475%

Payback Period:
11.61 months (over two year period)

An Enterprise Content Management platform for financial services firms. Enabling financial services firms to reduce time-to-market for websites, marketing documents and content portals by over 50%, and typically at one third of the traditional cost.

Kurtosys is pleased to present this return on investment (ROI) projection created with information provided by your team. It details the cost savings you can reasonably expect to realize when you choose to implement your investor experience with Kurtosys to realize real growth. The data below represents a summary of the possible ROI you can expect by product and by year with a typical implementation period of 9 months.

Net Present Value of $2,085,318 is calculated using a 2% discount rate. Return on Investment is calculated by dividing the total net profit by the total cost. Payback Period calculates the time in months it takes your savings to equal that of your cost, including the implementation period.

This model is for illustration purposes only and Kurtosys does not guarantee ROI. Please contact your salesperson with any questions you may have.

70% of the website was going to be about data, so it was more pragmatic for us to consider someone who was good at handling data, and then building the wider web experience around that.

- Pauline Bush, Director, Marketing, Hermes Investment Management

We wanted to leverage on a provider, able to understand our business within the asset management and services industry and assist us with solution and services, end to end. From hosting, to content services, to technology implementation, to data. We needed a provider to support the full stack. You are the only provider in Europe (that I know), that can provide something like that.

- Giovanni Ricciolio, Head of Digital Strategy & Implementation, Generali Investments

We've got many funds and investment experts; what we really need to do is ensure our clients can get access to them and their thoughts and views as well as the data and performance of the products in the most timely and efficient manner possible.

- Ross Duncton, Managing Director, Head of Marketing & Direct, BMOGAM

BMO Global Asset Management

“

If we have things that require an additional level of technical expertise, we have Kurtosys support there available all the time, who are very responsive, without worrying about a lot of competing other priorities like our own internal team had before. The whole thing is just much simpler, faster, better overall.

- Anthony Ialeggio, Chief Marketing Officer

A single source of data for all your experiences and documents. Avoid multiple costly integrations, ensure data consistency, and centralize disparate data workflows in a fully audited environment.

“

In addition to an excellent technology partner, we wanted to work with a firm that had specific experience in the Finance industry. A partner that could navigate compliance, returns data, and most importantly - provide the best possible experience to advisors and investors.

- Carl Hendley, Vice President Strategic Development, Motley Fool Asset Management

Now, with the site implemented, it s not just a website - but a website platform, with a unified data model. Before, we had to update the data of our products, across three separate sites with three separate teams, at the risk of data quality and inconsistency.

- Giovanni Ricciolio, Head of Digital Strategy & Implementation, Generali Investments

We hoped to use a provider who were experts in our field (asset management), and all the solutions that come with it in terms of regulation and reporting.

- Flora Scott, Marketing, RWC Partners

About Kurtosys

Kurtosys empowers financial services firms to create powerful investor experiences and lasting customer relationships through efficient automation of key sales, marketing and customer service processes.

The company provides an end-to-end digital experience platform (DXP) that enables firms to create, manage, publish and optimize all their financial data, documents, websites and content in a secure, compliant environment.

As a result, it is trusted by the world's leading investment brands to mitigate their risks and reduce their costs while providing the agility to ensure they are first to market.

Kurtosys solutions include secure websites and portals, interactive data tools and apps, automated sales presentations, marketing collateral and reporting and document libraries.

Kurtosys architecture is underpinned by robust and scalable infrastructure using the latest Cloud technologies and supported by teams that understand information design, industry regulations and compliance issues and working at scale with data.

We are an ISO 27001 certified company. We have implemented a comprehensive information security management system to protect customer services including datacentre protection, business continuity, risk assessment and incident management.

Founded in 2002, Kurtosys was funded from Silicon Valley investment and operates across three global offices, employing over 200 people. The company works with some of the world's largest financial brands, including banks, wealth managers, mutual fund providers and alternative investments.
